

Company Wish List:

1. Perfient - This is on my top of list. It's not just because I am being sponsored by them. They are a strong consulting firm that does a variety of work. They are not just married to one stack. Since they work on project for individual clients, it'll be great opportunity for me to learn different technology and methods to grow.
  - a. Tech stack - they mentioned Java, .Net, React, Python, and many more. Based on my research, they basically do it all.
  - b. Job Opening - they have openings for entry level consulting roles.
  - c. Other notes:
    - i. I have a background in working from project to project. So it'll be ideal for me.
    - ii. The top 2 company values are Innovation and People. I value when companies make consistent improvement on the company and the people.
2. Blend - I have personally used their app as a loan officer in the mortgage field.
  - a. Tech stack - Go, TypeScript, Node.js, React, PostgreSQL, AWS
  - b. Job opening - It looks like all of the tech positions are going overseas. They have positions open for software engineering, but must have extensive experience.
  - c. Other notes:
    - i. I have mortgage background and have used their web app extensively. I want to be part of the team. They are good at making innovations.
    - ii. They operating as a startup. But their clientel is growing quickly.
3. Ring Central
  - a. Tech stack - AWS, Python, MySQL
  - b. Job opening - Tech jobs are all moving overseas. However, it would never hurt to try.
  - c. Other notes:
    - i. I have a strong interest in VOIP apps. I want to know how it works ins and out. I would love to learn it by working on the piece of it.
